STRENGTH OF THE SILVERITES

THEY ARE CONFIDENT OF HAVING 600 VOTES IN THE CONVENTION.

Bryan Slated for Temporary Chairman and Harris for Permanent Work of Senatorial Syndicate.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Teller and Stevenson are no longer candidates for the presidential nomination, both having withdrawn to-day. The senatorial silver junta of the Democratic party shows signs of going to pieces over the conflicting interests of candidates. It has chosen Bryan for temporary chairman of the national convention, and will have a minority report made by silver members of the national committee, favoring him as against Hill, thus forcing the fight on the floor of the convention and turning down the national committee. The Bland-McLean combination is responsible for the weakening of the silver junta by trying to force a caucus of all the silver delegates for Monday night to agree on a candidate, believing that they could control a majority of such a caucus. Indiana, probably Iowa, and all the States having minor candidates, will resist this caucus movement. The Indiana people have decided to stand by the two-thirds rule, and will probably be followed in this by a number of the silver States.

The sound-money men are flocking in, and will probably command enough strength by strategic combinations with candidates to give the silver leaders a heap of trouble.

Leon O. Bailey is a candidate for national committeeman from Indiana, but it is by no means certain that Sheerin will be turned down.

WIDELY DIVIDED.

No Hope of Democrats Getting Together on the Money Question.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CHICAGO, July 2.—All indications point to one of the most interesting conventions ever held by the Democratic party. There could not be a wider division between two parties that had opposed each other for a century than exists between the two wings of the party here. The trend here is toward the sound money, and the trend there is toward the silver. The silver delegates are not only a majority, but they are a very large majority. Next week the same party will meet for the first time since this victory and almost two-thirds of it will come with the determination to cast aside the issues on which they have been fighting for years. COUNTERFEITERS CAPTURED.

Arrest of Dr. Matilda Adella Walter and Four Men at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 2.—At No. 1321 Pendleton avenue, the house of Dr. Matilda Adella Walter, United States secret service detectives, who for weeks have been working on the case, arrested a gang of five counterfeiters and captured a complete set of tools. Those arrested, who have hitherto borne good characters, are Dr. Walter, a regular practicing female physician; Ralph and Walter Creese, professional photographers; W. H. Bennett, a fine-looking, elderly man, who asserts that he is a patient of the Doctor's, being treated at her hospital, and has nothing to do with the counterfeiting. There was also captured at the Pendleton-avenue house a complete counterfeiting outfit, consisting of photographic engravings of a twenty-dollar bill, some of the bills, the copper plates and all the necessary paraphernalia. The train was going at a rapid rate when the explosion occurred. What caused the accident will never be learned. Jones had a family and lived here. The dead bodies were brought to Birmingham this morning.

TRAIN BADLY WRECKED.

Locomotive Boiler Broken Up and Engineer and Two Blackmen Killed.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 2.—The boiler of engine 230 on south-bound freight train No. 15 of the Louisville & Nashville railroad exploded this morning at 4:13 o'clock, one and a half miles south of Hartsell, Ala. The engine was blown to atoms and eighteen cars in the train were badly wrecked. Engineer James Jones was terribly mangled, dying three hours after the explosion. Fireman Dan Atkins, colored, and front brakeman L. Jenkins, colored, were instantly killed, and bagman A. C. Sanford was slightly hurt. The train was going at a rapid rate when the explosion occurred. What caused the accident will never be learned. Jones had a family and lived here. The dead bodies were brought to Birmingham this morning.

WHY THE MISSOURIAN SHOULD BE ACCEPTABLE TO LABOR UNIONS.

Never Rode on a Free Pass, Grabbed Salary or Took Gifts of Any Kind —Vannoy and McLean Booms.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 2.—The Matthews people regard with considerable alarm the movement to have a conference of the silver forces at the Columbia Theater on Monday to discuss the advisability of uniting on a candidate. So great is this alarm that even Senator Turpie consented to-night to be interviewed to the extent of five lines. He said: "The proposed caucus is an impossibility. So many States have given instructions similar to those which bind the Indiana delegation that a caucus cannot be held."

This movement for a silver caucus unquestionably originated with the managers of the Bland boom. They appreciate that they have the best of it on the start and if they could get a caucus on candidates, with an agreement that the one receiving the highest number of votes should receive the support of the solid silver forces, they would clinch the thing right there. In such a conference Matthews would be third choice and his doom would be sealed.

Whether the Iowa people would go into such a caucus is an undetermined question. "We would have no objection to submitting the claims of our candidate to a conference of silver delegates," said Charles Walsh, when I asked him about it this afternoon. "We believe he would do as well as any other in their hands. Whether our delegates would pledge themselves to be bound by such a choice is another question."

"I am not so sure. At the first meeting of the delegation after the Dubuque convention, Horace Boies said to the delegates: 'If you know of, or can find another man, who, in your judgment, can draw a larger vote for free silver than I, you are at liberty to consider your pledges dissolved and vote for him.'"

The Bland people, in trying to force this caucus, are greatly weakening the influence of the "senatorial silver syndicate," which has been shaping up about everything to date. By giving the impression that the proposed caucus originated with the Bland League they have caused much criticism of that body on the ground that it is usurping the work of the convention and trying to hog everything. If the Matthews people can prevent this caucus they feel they are in a fair way to succeed in their canvass.

SCHEME TO OUST "SI" SHEERIN

LEON O. BAILEY ANXIOUS TO BE NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Indiana has been one of the first States to show a fight for sound money, ex-Congressman Bynum having been on the ground since Tuesday morning. This morning Evans Woolen joined him, and they opened the Indiana sound-money headquarters on the entresol floor of the Palmer House. While they had been joining in whatever work Messrs. Eckels and Harrity could find to do for the cause, they thought it better to have an individual State headquarters. This is a part of a general plan to have the large cities of every State represented in the interest of sound money, and it looks now as though the business interests of the country would make such a showing as they never made before.

A REAL GOOD MAN.

Richard P. Bland Perfect, According to the Sound-Money Men.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Governor Stone, of Missouri, was asked to-day if he had noted the report that the Eastern gold-standard delegates were tending toward Governor Boies. He answered that he had seen such a report in the newspapers and had heard such talk in the lobbies, but knew nothing at all to its truth. Continuing the story, he said that Mr. Bland and his friends had not expected and do not expect any support from that source. He said: "Mr. Bland's stand is the personification of the free-coinage idea. It is utterly impossible, in the very nature of things, that there should be any alliance between him and the single-standard gold people. He is a single electoral vote for the nominee of this convention. If Mr. Bland is nominated he will be nominated by the delegates from the States whose electoral vote must be relied on for success at the polls."

The Governor was asked if he was aware that the three gold-standard prominent labor organizations were not partial to Mr. Bland's nomination, on the ground that he had not been the active fighter for the cause. He answered that he was not aware of it. He said: "It is a strange objection to make to Mr. Bland's nomination. His whole life has been devoted to the cause of the people, and he has never been a member of any of the great battles in favor of the people of the great masses. Look at the man and his history. For twenty-two years he was a Representative in Congress. In all that time he never rode to Washington or anywhere else on a free pass. He paid his own way and that of his family, not that he was antagonistic to railroads or to any legitimate enterprise, but that he was a man of honor. He never made any display of things of this kind. Only a few people are aware of the fact to which I allude, but it is true. He voted against the back-salary grab, and he voted against the pension bill. He was a man of honor, and he was a man of honor."

Mr. Bynum this morning filed with Secretary Sheerin, of the national committee, a notice that he would file before Monday the credentials of John P. Frenzel as delegate from the Seventh district, accompanied by a brief, setting forth the facts in the case and arguing in the light of Democratic precedents. Cooper's credentials have already been filed along with those of other members of the delegation, signed by the chairman and secretary of the State convention. Mr. Frenzel will arrive in the morning along with the other sound-money men from Indianapolis and it is not unlikely that a subcommittee of the national committee will hear testimony from both sides before making up the temporary roll, which important function will be performed Monday. Secretary Sheerin to-day denied that he would make any recommendation in the matter, but said he would let the committee hear all the facts and make up its mind unbiased by him.

"GREAT HEAVINGS!"

Leon O. Bailey a Candidate for "SI" Sheerin's Place.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The movement to unhorse S. P. Sheerin, the present Indiana member and for eight years secretary of the national committee, has taken shape in the active candidacy of Leon O. Bailey, of Indianapolis, for the place. Bailey has written a personal letter to each of the delegates, asking their support "in case it is thought advisable to make a change," and as the delegates come in he presents to each verbal reasons why such a change would be advisable. It is said that Shanklin is also a candidate, though this cannot be confirmed in his absence. The only objection urged against the retention of Sheerin is that he is a "gold bug," but that is about the worst high crime and misdemeanor one can be guilty of in this convention, where the cheap orators of the lobbies are already hard at work entertaining the mob with speeches, which at the time of the Anarchist excitement would have assured their apprehension and charge of inciting riot. It is urged that all the other silver States have either announced their intention of turning down

THE BOIES MONEY PLANK.

Resolution That Was Rejected by the Iowa Democratic Convention.

DUBUQUE, Ia., July 2.—A large contingent of Iowa Democrats will pass through Dubuque Monday morning on the way to Chicago. Friends of ex-Governor Boies here, while confident of his nomination at Chicago, are planning to have him nominated for Congress should they fail at the national convention. There is no doubt but that Colonel D. B. Henderson will be renominated by the Republicans at Waterloo on the 8th inst. without opposition. He has never been defeated in this district, his smallest plurality being 388 in 1890, when Judge Couch, Governor Boies's law partner, opposed him. The silver men claim, however, that Governor Boies was elected to Congress, and support this claim by citing the fact that he carried the district in 1890 by 1,851 plurality when elected Governor, and again in 1891 by 2,455 plurality. They say that the silver Democrats carry out their plan as outlined in interviews to-day the congressional caucus will be held at the hotel where the hottest ever waged here, as Boies and Henderson are the only subject discussed at people at home have been inclined to

In Indiana the people have been accustomed to regard him as a learned man of considerable linguistic ability, but of no particular consequence either as a statesman or as politician. Voorhees has made so much noise and monopolized so much space in the Indiana newspapers that people at home have been inclined to
